A Change which Benefits Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Philadelphia papers today rejoice in the fact that a change in the schedule of freight tariffs of the Union Pacific Railroad has just been effected which has an important bearing. The Register says it has been the policy of that company to discriminate against the Pennsylvania road in such a manner as to make shipment of goods from Europe to the Pacific coast via Philadelphia or vice-versa practically impossible by means of charges levied. Invoices of grain, fruit and other commodities which were under the old regime formerly sent to New York on account of the prohibitory tariff to Philadelphia, can now be shipped direct. In view of the approaching Centennial the new system has another very important advantage. Not only exhibitors alone can send their exhibits direct to the Centennial building, but collections from China and Japan, which are expected to be large and valuable, will be also delivered in the same way without change of cars from San Francisco. Schedules of the new rates are now being prepared for circulation among the commercial and agricultural districts of California.

The second mate, Thomas Murray, has been acquitted of a murder committed wantonly while Byrne was apparently in a drunken fit, in which he not only killed the steward but wounded two seamen and was still engaged in a deadly fight with the second mate, the only unwounded person on board when the force from the American frigate arrived.

The Baptist were holding a meeting at Elam Church near Camack when the storm demolished it, killing three and wounding twenty-five. Residences and outhouses were demolished on many plantations in Warren, McDuffie and Columbia counties, Georgia. The destruction extended into Edgefield, Aiken and Barnwell counties, South Carolina. In some places persons were blown a distance of sixty yards. Every house on Mrs Walton's plantation including the fine residence was destroyed. In Columbia county three negroes were killed and 25 persons wounded. Ten houses on Dr. Hamilton's place were destroyed. It is impossible to give a correct idea of the amount of property lost. Several hundred thousand dollars will not cover it. Fearful suffering is already reported in the devastated regions.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Republican Caucus—They Agree to Press the Louisiana Resolution.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Republican senators were in caucus this morning, and with two exceptions pledged themselves to vote for taking up the Frelinghuysen resolution and to remain in Washington and vote for its adoption, when modified so as simply to declare the Senate's approval of the President's action in protecting the existing government of Louisiana from domestic violence. The two senators who did not pledge themselves to adopt the programme were Christiancy and Robertson.

The Republican senators agreed to refrain from discussing the caucus Louisiana resolution in the Senate and have also determined to vote against any recess or adjournment except over Sunday, until the final vote is taken. This course will in all probability insure the termination of the session within the next five or six days and many think it will be closed by Wednesday.

Senator Jones on the Hawaiian Treaty.

In the debate on the Hawaiian treaty Jones of Nevada after arguing that the political considerations involved were of themselves enough to decide the question in favor of ratification further contended that the commercial importance of this treaty had been generally overlooked and underestimated even by its friends in the Senate. He called attention to the fact that the aggregate amount of our commerce with the Sandwich Islands does not adequately indicate its real benefit to this country for the reason that they purchase from us a class of articles the value of which is made up in an uncommonly large degree by the cost of labor employed and not by the mere cost of the raw material. Thus for example, the islands import from the United States annually more than one hundred thousand dollars worth of wooden ware which represents an expenditure of over $90,000 for wages of labor in this country and $10,000 worth of clothing of which only one fourth or one third of the value is credited to raw material. As another example of minor importance he cited the import of cheap jewelry which we export to these islands to the amount of $6,000 or $8,000 a year of which at least eleven twelfths represent wages of labor employed in its manufacture. By these and similar illustrations he claimed to show that the ratification of the treaty would afford great and lucrative stimulus to numerous industries of this country especially to many on the Pacific coast. Replying to the argument by Senator Booth that as wages in the Sandwich Islands are only $12 a month and the native inhabitants are of a low grade, that it is worth any special cultivation of commercial relations with them, it is unjust in an economic point of view. Senator Jones argued that was a weighty reason why we should endeavor to exchange our trade with such people because in exchange of products with them we get the value of a months labor of one of their products for the cost of four days labor by our mechanics.

SENATE—EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Immediately after reading the Journal Anthony moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the resolution submitted on Tuesday night by Frelinghuysen approving the action of the President in protecting Louisiana from domestic violence and expressing the opinion that he should continue to recognize Kellogg in that State the existing State government.

Bayard raised the point of order that the effect of the resolution was legislation and therefore not in order at this session.

A debate ensued and finally the Senate by a vote of 28 yeas to 23 nays agreed to take up the resolution.

Yeas—Allison, Anthony, Boutwell, Bruce, Burnside, Cameron of Wisconsin, Conkling, Cragin, Edmunds, Ferry, of Michigan, Frelinghuysen, Harvey, Hitchcock, Howe, Ingalls, Jones, of Nevada, Logan, McMillan, Mitchell, Morrill, of Maine, Morrill of Vermont, Morton, Oglesby, Patterson, Robertson, Sherman, Spencer, West—28.

Nays—Bayard, Bogy, Booth, Carpenter, Cockrill, Hooper, Davis, Eaton, Gordon, Hamilton, Johnson of Tennessee, Jones of Florida, Kelly, Kernan, McCreery, Morris, Norwood, Randolph, Saulsbury, Stevenson, Thurman, Wallace, White, Withers—23.

Cameron of Pennsylvania, Hamlin, Sargent and Windom yeas were paired off with Ransom and Merriman, Dennis and Johnson of Virginia who were nays.

Those not voting and not announced as paired were Alcorn, Christiancy, Clayton, Conover, Dawes, Dorsey, Ferry of Connecticut, Goldthwaite, McDonald, Paddock, Wadleigh and Wright.

Anthony submitted a substitute agreed upon in caucus for the resolution of Frelinghuysen as follows:

Resolved, That the action of the President in protecting the Government of Louisiana, of which William P. Kellogg is executive and the people of that State against domestic violence and in enforcing the laws of the United States is approved.

Thurman said he wanted three or four days to look into the resolution and it was evident now that the session would be prolonged till next week. He moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business. Rejected—ayes 22, nays 33.

White said the resolution was twin to that for the admission of Pinchback recently postponed till next December. He moved that the resolution be postponed till the first Monday in next December. Rejected—yeas 4, nays 30.

Before the discussion on the resolution was commenced Anthony said it was the intention of senators on his side of the chamber to discuss the matter, and with all due respect to the ingenuity of senators on the other side he did not think they could say anything new in regard to the trouble about voting on it and having final adjournment to day.

Bayard then spoke at length against the resolution.

Bayard twice yielded to a motion to adjourn which was both times rejected. Finally on motion of Randolph who said his sole object was to give senators of the other side an opportunity for conference a recess was taken till six P. M. While Bayard was speaking nearly every seat on the Republican side was vacant. Republican senators having concluded to give the Democrats a monopoly of the time used for speeches.

On the reassembling of the Senate Bayard resumed his speech. At 6:15 P. M. he yielded to Cooper who moved the Senate adjourn. Rejected. Yeas 21, nays 38. Bayard then concluded his speech when Maxey took the floor and spoke in opposition to the resolution of Anthony. Before concluding at 8 P. M. he yielded to McDonald for a motion to adjourn. Sherman asked the latter if he could name any time when a vote could be taken if the Senate should agree to adjourn. He said he could not.

Eaton said while senators on his side had not arrived at any conclusion as to a day when a vote could be taken he would say candidly in his judgment if the Senate adjourn at a reasonable hour this evening a vote would be reached as soon as if the session continued.

Sherman said it was a matter of vital importance for both sides to know when the Senate would adjourn. They had made engagements and wanted to go home. He had no doubt the majority would agree to it. It seemed to him Tuesday might be fixed on for final adjournment.

Bayard had no idea anything but the most usual and ordinary disposition of the resolution would be attempted by senators on his side of the chamber. If when the resolution was brought in this morning the usual course had been taken and an order made to print it printed and lay over as usual he had no doubt that on Monday or Tuesday speeches would have been brief and not dilatory to any extent. The reason it took him so long was want of time in preparation.

After further discussion White offered a resolution that the President pro tem declare the Senate adjourned sine die next Thursday at noon.

Logan (sotto voce)—Not much.

Conkling called for the regular order and motion of McDonald to adjourn was rejected.

Anthony said the majority proposed to give all time for debate to the other side and if senators would fix a time for a vote they might adjourn when they pleased.

Maxey resumed his remarks and closed saying the resolution now before the Senate was a twin brother to the Pinchback resolution and should be postponed with it.

Davis moved to amend the substitute by striking out the word [what word (and stated his intention to move to insert the word disapprove) if amendment to strike out should be agreed to]. The motion to strike out was rejected. Yeas 16, nays 3...

Kernan next spoke followed by Eaton who yielded for a motion to adjourn. Rejected, yeas 20, nays 4... Eaton then resumed his speech but at 10 o'clock P. M. yielded to McCreery who moved to adjourn and said the majority might sit the session out Tuesday night.

Anthony inquired if he was authorized to make this agreement. McCreery said he was personally willing to it. Anthony said if the Democrats would agree that a vote be taken Wednesday, the Republicans would agree to adjourn now.

Bayard said he hoped it would not be postponed half so long, but the Democrats would not bind themselves.

McCreery's motion to adjourn was rejected, yeas 21, nays ... and Eaton concluded his speech when Johnson of Tennessee obtained the floor.

Anthony said if the senator did not wish to speak to night he would move to adjourn till Monday.

Johnson said he was not anxious to proceed tonight and Anthony modified his motion and moved an Executive session which was agreed to. In a few moments the doors reopened and the Senate adjourned till Monday.

A new industry has been inaugurated by Mr John Webster of White river, King county, W. T. He has put in machinery to manufacture broom handles from spruce timber on a large scale. He finds a ready market for them in San Francisco.

OREGON.

The Santiam Canal Co. has voted to increase its ...

T. J. Smith has been chosen recorder of Eugene City.

The Umpqua hills and valleys are becoming very green.

The Albany Democrat has got into its brand spanking spanking new quarters.

The sanitary condition of the Dalles has not been as good this winter as usual.

The Harrisburg Canal Co. has ordered a preliminary survey of the proposed canal.

Salem amateurs will repeat "Ten Nights in a Bar room" with a better cast than before.

Work on the Dalles and Sandy Wagon Road at the Cascade portage will be resumed this week.

The incipient fire department of Corvallis is at a dead lock for want of ordinances to regulate it.

Somebody shot a fine cow for Mr Owens of Salem the other day, so that he died of the wounds.

The Good Templars of this State have increased their membership about 600 in the last three months.

The schooner B. H. Ramsdell loaded 100 tons of coal in four hours at the Henryville chutes, Friday before last.

The storms so far in March have been more severe in the mountains than any experienced during the winter.

S. Case of Yaquina will ship by the Alice Kimball to San Francisco the rigging of the schooner John Hunter.

The weather has been very changeable in Eastern Oregon for the past ten days. Spring has been very cold and backward.

Albany is growing constantly, and new faces are appearing on the streets. We predict that the census soon to be taken will give us a population of over 2,600—possibly 3,000.

In the case of the State of Oregon vs the Corvallis and Y. B. W. R. Co. which was taken to Linn county on change of venue and tried there last week Judge Bonham rendered a verdict annulling the charter and dissolving the corporation of the Wagon Road Co.

The members of Corvallis fire department met at Young America's engine hall, Saturday before last, for the purpose of electing officers. The vote for chief engineer resulted in a tie between Geo. P. Wrenn and Bush Wilson. J. M. Iglin was chosen assistant chief.

Three vessels were loading lumber at the Marshfield mills last week—the three masted schooner A. J. Jordan and the brigs Sheet Anchor and Lucy Ann. This, together with the amount of work necessary to build the two vessels now in process of construction, made things look lively for a while.

The O. & C. Railroad Co. have made the necessary survey and intend putting in a switch or spur leading from the main track to the fall in the Santiam canal near the residence of Jas Elkins Esq at once. This will enable canal boats to load freight on to the cars at that point saving the cost of hauling by teams as heretofore done, from that point to the depot, a distance of nearly a mile.

On Thursday of last week Richard Rush, a deputy sheriff of Lane county, arrested two men at Coos bay on a charge of having attempted to rob the stage near Pioche Nevada, on the 18th of August last. The deputy sheriff brought them over to Eugene and there found he had nothing to hold the men on only his own suspicions. The Coos bay News says a little of this sort of thing goes a long ways.

The Corvallis Democrat learns that on Monday of last week quite a large number of men made a frantic rush for the Alsea reservation to take early advantage of the act of Congress making provision for the removal of the Indians from that reserve. The company started down the Alsea in a skiff, but met with a mishap which upset their canoe and left them to make the best of their way on foot, minus sundry articles of grub and apparel. When informed that the Indians had not yet agreed to the removal, and that the reservation was not yet open for settlement a portion of the company concluded to continue their search for a location farther down the coast, perhaps as far as the Siuslaw and Five rivers, while the rest will wend their way home, sadder and wiser men.

FARMING ITEMS.

There is a prospect of a corner in the oats market in Harrisburg.

Places can be obtained for pre-emption and homestead on the Chehalis.

Mr T. M. Alvord of White River, W. T., has wintered about 300 head of cattle this winter at an average cost of $0 per head.

Farmers tell us that the recent freeze up has been a great fertilizer to the soil and that the ground plows and works much easier and lighter than for years previously.

The wheat crop of Oregon has not been a failure for thirty years, never since first settled by the whites. What country elsewhere on the globe can show a better record than that.

The Farmer contains the advance portion of the premium list of the Oregon State Agricultural Society for 1875. If we are to judge from the list before us the society offer very liberal premiums. This is undoubtedly the correct policy where a society's revenue will admit of it.

A small herd of sheep, pastured on Skinner's Butte Lane county and said to belong to Mr Robert Dillard, were attacked by dogs last Tuesday and some of them nearly killed. The dogs were scared away, but the pursuers did not unluckily, get close enough for an effective shot.

The Register says the farmers in the Santiam Forks have been busy plowing whenever the weather would permit for weeks past and will have a large amount of new land brought under cultivation the coming season. The Grange organizations there are constantly growing in numbers and influence. The effect of these organizations is already seen in the renewed interest taken in agricultural pursuits, and the advancement of the agricultural interest generally. Should the season prove favorable, an unusually large amount of grain may confidently be expected from the coming harvest in the Forks.

Mr Wm Grant of the firm of R. Grant & Co. of The Dalles, returned the fore part of last week from a visit to their ranch on the John Day river in Grant county. He reports that live stock generally got through the winter with but little loss but that the spring is backward and the weather rather cold for this season of the year. He found at the ranch a large number of cattle that would make good beef but he didn't think they would stand driving to market at present owing to the shortness of the grass along the route to be driven. It is Mr Grant's opinion that in the course of from four to six weeks, there will be plenty of beef cattle.

MINING ITEMS.

The Newport Mining Company, of Coos Bay are buying a tugboat for their own use.

Capt W. H. Taylor is at Seattle having the management of the Seattle Coal Transportation Co's business.

Mining operations on the Santiam have been pretty much discontinued on account of the stormy character of the weather.

The Ochoco Mining Company have purchased some two hundred feet of six inch sheet-iron pipe of Mr T. W. Miller, to be used for hydraulic gold mining.

It is generally understood, says the Transcript, that Mr Edward Giddings, the new collector of internal revenue for Puget Sound will appoint Mr C. B. Bagley editor of the Courier as deputy collector. Mr Bagley has had experience in the same office under Mr S. Coulter.

THE TERRITORIES.

A Lodge of Odd Fellows is soon to be organized at New Tacoma.

The dudes which were let out last summer about the city of Olympia are alive and doing well.

The mills on Puget Sound are crowded with orders and generally have small supplies of logs on hand.

The steamer Addie which was snagged up Duwamish river has been brought down and repaired and is running again.

Mr Landley Meeker reports that Mr J. H. Fletcher, Assessor of Clarke Co., W. T., found 150 voters between the forks of Lewis river.

Sheriff Goodell of Chehalis county, W. T., states that the recent census of that county under his supervision shows a population of about 750.

Parties who have land patents in the office at Olympia will save trouble by calling for them at once. There are about 900 there awaiting the owners.

Old Billy, a superannuated boatman who has navigated the waters of the northwest for a quarter of a century, was sent to the hospital at Vancouver last week.

The Register of Vancouver says: "Whether the chief river of Oregon should be spelled Wallamet or Willamette, is a question that has seriously interfered with our repose. We are at length compelled to admit that we are driven to the wall by preponderance of evidence."

Two new and ambitious towns in Washington Territory rejoice in the name of Centreville. One of them is in Snohomish county, the other in Lewis county on the line of the railroad. The postoffice at the latter station is known as Newaukum. Considerable annoyance has already been caused from this sameness of name and it will increase as the places grow older and increase in population.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

A Mr Van Allen, residing in the Ochoco country, was killed about three weeks since in a difficulty with a Mr. Ryan—Ryan, defending himself cut Van Allen with a knife, causing his death.

Mr Mead living at the mouth of the Alsea, accidentally shot his little daughter aged about 9 years, while doing something with his gun on Friday of last week. It is feared the wound is fatal, as the shot took effect in the side.

Pat Brown, the enamored swain who has been in jail at Eugene all winter for stealing his own blankets gazed pensively on the aperture through which Mr. Bradford escaped! and was reminded of an appointment he had with J. Y. B. of Ky. He went. The Journal says, "Good bye, Brown."

Daniel Roberts fireman at the Isthmus saw mills on Coos Bay, owned by J. T. Durham, met with a painful mishap last Friday. He was standing in front of the furnaces, putting in a fire, when the feed-pipe which conveys water to the heater, burst and scalled him severely about the face and neck.

The Astorian says thieves are prowling around Astoria. Last Wednesday night they cleaned out Capt. Ferchen's clothes line; emptied Capt. Johnson's meat barrels, and poisoned Capt. Johnson's dog. Loaded revolvers handy by, might assist night prowlers like these to hospitable graves.

The Tribune says Andrew Anderson, a Norwegian, who lived in New Tacoma until recently is now supposed to be drowned. About six weeks ago he and his family moved down the Sound staying for a few days on Bean's point, at the entrance to the harbor of Port Blakely and afterwards moving over to Port Madison. The only work Anderson had done since he left Tacoma was for Bryant, the Blakely shipbuilder. On Sunday the 7th instant, Mr Anderson started for New Tacoma in a large open sailboat. He arrived safely, did what he came to do, and left for Port Madison in the same boat on Wednesday, the 10th. Since then it is not known that either he or the boat has been seen.

The Salem Statesman of Saturday learns the following from Mr Howard G. Morris who was on the spot yesterday morning, where a probable, frightful accident had occurred the night previous. Five miles from Gervais on the road leading to Egan's mill, the bridge across Pudding river had some time since been condemned as unsafe for wagons. On Thursday evening about dusk it was discovered that the whole center of the bridge had given away and been precipitated into the river. Fresh wagon tracks were observed going on to the bridge but none off, and the timbers of the bridge where it is broken indicate the failing of a heavy loaded vehicle. From the floor of the bridge to the water is eighteen feet, and the river is deep with a swift current at that place. Friday morning the whole neighborhood was aroused, rafts were being made and preparations set on foot for a thorough search.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.

A series of revival meetings are being held in the town of Tumwater.

The interest in the religious revival at Albany, still continues, and more than one hundred have been forward for prayers. The whole number uniting with the M. E. church, up to last Sunday, was thirty-two.

WRECKS DISCOVERED.

The Seattle Intelligencer says Capt. Burton of the bark Florence which arrived at Port Blakely on the 8th inst., from Santa Barbara, sends us word that on his way up, and when in lat 37 deg 45 min, and long 124 deg. 27 min, about one hundred miles southeast of San Francisco, he fell in with the wreck of a vessel of about two hundred tons burthen. She was water-logged and dismasted. Her rails and top timbers were gone on both sides from the forecastle to the poop deck, and the main hatches were off. The bowsprit and jib boom were standing also the frame of the forward house and the stumps of the fore and the main masts. There was no one to be seen or any signs of life about the wreck nor anything to indicate her name or the fate of her crew. She was probably some coaster which had become water logged and abandoned.

The Portland Townsend Argus says: The following dated Port Angeles, March 2d was received the 5th inst.: "A man arrived here to day from Ellway, five miles west of this place and reports a sloop on shore, all hands drowned, the word Madison can be made out on the stern. I will ascertain the facts tomorrow. T. S."

Since the above was put in type we learn from Mr Vidder that the sloop was named Maria of Port Madison. She went ashore with all sails set and being lashed. Nothing found on board but a little ballast.

The contributions of wheat from the United States to the bread supply of Great Britain in 1874 constituted 55 per cent of the whole imports and those of Russia 13 per cent. The aggregate export of wheat and flour from the United States to Great Britain during the year exceeds an equivalent of 52,000,000 bushels.

SOUR GRAPES.

Since the Portland Bulletin has stopped taking the dispatches it has changed its opinion concerning them. The only dispatches it ever had were the Associated Press dispatches, and they were always considered as free from error as it is possible for news reports to be made. But the Bulletin says the Associated Press dispatches "are cooked up to accomplish purposes hostile to the Republican party;" and that "facts are misstated or withheld; proceedings in Congress are garbled and unfair; pretended events are invented frequently out of whole cloth, and everything is given a Democratic tone."

This entire charge is unfounded, and the Bulletin, which steals our Associated Press dispatches and forges new dates to them, impliedly admits they are reliable and valuable by the larceny of them. Why do the managers of that paper load their consciences and reputations with the crime of larceny and forgery in order to get hold of those dispatches, if they are so utterly worthless and unreliable? The fact is, the most complete and reliable news dispatches that can be collected are collected by the Associated Press, as will appear from comparing them with any other. How rarely do the full particulars of any matter, when ascertained, contradict in material points the telegraphic summary sent by agents of the Associated Press! Nor are the dispatches colored for political purposes, as alleged by the Bulletin. If they were would not they be exposed when the truth has been made public? Take the Louisiana and Arkansas affairs for instances. Why, the reports of the congressional committees verified the telegraphic reports even in those complicated cases. There never was another so perfect a system of collecting and transmitting news as that of the Associated Press. The Portland Bulletin's decrying the Press dispatches is the old story of the sour grapes.

FITZ JOHN PORTER COMES TO THE SURFACE AGAIN.

It seems a long time ago that Gen. Fitz John Porter was cashiered from the army for disobeying orders on the field and in the presence of the enemy. It was away back in 1862, that darkest year in the history of this nation. It would be generally supposed a decision that had stood thus long unimpeached ought to be considered final. But Fitz John Porter does not look at it in that light. He has just made an urgent appeal to the President for a rehearing, averring that he has discovered since the former trial new evidence material to his defense. And he presents the opinion of several lawyers to the effect that he should have been acquitted when he was convicted.

The circumstances of his conviction justify the conclusion that the best thing for the President to do is to decline to re-open the case. He refused to fight when ordered by Gen. Pope, then in command of the Army of the Potomac; he was tried in due course of military law, by court martial, found guilty and sentenced to be cashiered. The sentence was submitted to President Lincoln for his approval, and the good President, always leaning toward the side of mercy, hesitated to sign the sentence till he had submitted it to Judge Holt and received from him an exhaustive report and opinion justifying the decision of the court martial. Then the sentence was approved, and the man who had shown the white feather in the face of the enemy, and while he himself was in command of an important division, was drummed out of the service. In nearly any other country than America, he would have been unceremoniously shot. All he has saved over and above such a fate as that he should set down to the account of net gains and be satisfied. But he is pressing his appeal, with what chance of success no one can tell. Meanwhile, to give him a better base of operations, the Democratic Governor of New York has brought him out of his obscurity in New Jersey and made him a commissioner of public works.

DR. KENEALY IN PARLIAMENT.

Not less remarkable than the election of John Mitchel to Parliament from Tipperary was the election of Dr. Kenealy, famous for his connection with the Tichborne case, from Stoke-upon-Trent. He was the candidate of no definite class or body of voters, but was brought out by a few persons who had always believed he was on the right side of the Tichborne case, notwithstanding he was on the losing side; and he was carried along by these and by an unorganized mob who supported him simply to defy respectable people. Generally his candidacy was regarded as a sort of joke, no one supposing he would receive any considerable number of votes. But when the ballots were counted it was found he had more than either of his two competitors. He is a member without constituency, and without allies or associates in the House. When he went up to take the oath he went alone to the desk, and was stopped by the speaker, who said it had been a rule of the House ever since 1688 that a new member when he comes to be sworn in must come accompanied by two members to introduce him. After exchange of some words between him and the chair, he was required to withdraw, as the speaker regarded the rule as binding. Then John Bright, amidst a good deal of laughter, said that, although he was unacquainted with the individual, he had no doubt as to his identity, and as the object of the rule was to identify new members, he would volunteer, if any other member would join him, to go and volunteer their services to introduce the stranger to the House in due form of law; but there was no response to this generous proposal. At last on motion of Disraeli, the House voted to dispense with the rule for that case, and Kenealy came forward and took the oath. He will be just the same as no member at all, unless there shall arise a case in which his vote shall make or break a tie.

John McCullough, San Francisco's favorite actor, has just closed a very successful engagement in Brooklyn.

THE RING ORGAN CONFESSES ITS THEFTS AND FORGERIES.

The ring organ tacitly admits the truth of what we have said regarding the manner in which its dispatches are manufactured by taking our dispatches the day after their publication and changing their dates. There was nothing but to admit the charge to be correct, for a denial would have only ended in the proof of every charge and specification; but yet it seems scarcely credible that any person would own up to such an offense against honesty, honor and decency. One would think a person taken in such conduct would be ashamed to show his face among men again. But the ring organ appears as much lost to shame as to honor, and continues its thefts and forgeries in the face of a community where larceny is held a crime and forgery a double crime. The disgust of business men at its conduct is spoken without hesitation and in no confidential whisper; but the thing still goes on.

A NEW SUBJECT FOR INVESTIGATION.

The Chicago Times makes grave charges of fraud and corruption against every department of the city and county government, and against more than half the officers of the city. This attack was foreshadowed some time since by an article in which it was mentioned that the Times was investigating the accounts of the various branches of the city government and would soon publish some startling facts. It also makes serious charges against the Custom House officers at that city, alleging they have covered in more than $100,000 on their expense account, by falsifying pay-rolls, and offers to prove the allegation true. This, it is generally admitted, is a matter of too much gravity to be ignored, and an investigation must follow. It is safe to predict there will be brought out some interestsng facts.

The Commissioner of Statistics of Pennsylvania has just got out his second annual report, which contains some figures that may stagger the credulity of those who have not watched attentively the growth of the Keystone State of late years. Her population has increased with greater rapidity than that of any other of the old States, and now amounts to nearly four millions. It is demonstrated that at the present ratio of increase in both States, Pennsylvania will have a larger population at the close of the present century than New York. Her great gain is in the manufacturing and mining districts. The percentage of the people of the State engaged in the various pursuits and industries are as follows: Manufacturing and mining, 34.91; professional and personal service, 27.73; agriculture, 25.48; trade and transportation, 11.88.

In the Alta of the 15th instant we find a Washington dispatch of the 14th, which says: Attorney General Williams said to a friend of his yesterday, who has made it public, that he expects to resign his place in the Cabinet in a few weeks and go abroad as Minister. The report has it that he will succeed Mr. Schenck in London, who, it seems, has asked to be recalled. Among those mentioned as likely to succeed Williams is General B. F. Butler.

The Cincinnati Star called a divorce lawyer named J. B. Conklin, a "shyster," and J. B. Conklin sued the Star for libel, laying his damages at the modest sum of $20,000. The case has been tried, and the jury have rendered a verdict for the defendant. The defense was that the plaintiff was in fact just what the Star called him, and the jury have said by their verdict that the defense was truthful.

The New York Independent characterizes the passage of the force bill through the House and the civil rights bill through the Senate as "destructive victories," and says they are likely to lead to the destruction of the Republican party. It is to be hoped the Independent is wrong, unless there is to arise some party better than the Bourbons to take the place of the Republican organization.

We have received the prospectus of the Philadelphia Times, which is to take the place of the Age, under the management of Col. A. K. McClure. The Times is "independent in everything and neutral in nothing. Col. McClure is an old hand at newspaper work and is qualified to make the Times a leading journal. And he is "on the right track."

The New York Times says both the Force bill and Civil Rights bill are "unconstitutional and indefensible." The Civil Rights bill can hardly be pronounced unconstitutional, if, as General Butler says, it confers no rights on the colored people which all people have not always enjoyed by the common law.

The Washington Chronicle of March 8th notes that "Captain O. C. Applegate, late Secretary of the Modoc Peace Commission, a noted scout, and border leader of the far West, is stopping at the Washington House. He is connected with Redpath's Modoc Lecture Company."

There are 5,668 church edifices in the State of Pennsylvania, attended by 2,332,000 persons, and having a money value of $52,758,000. The Methodists lead all other denominations in the State, and the Presbyterians come next in order.

The Broklyn Union is in bankruptcy. Its debts, as reputed on the schedule, amount to about $100,000. It has not suspended, however, and it is understood arrangements have been made to sell it to Wm. C. Kingsley, who already owns most of its stock.

A man named James Hennessey snatched a lady's purse on the street. It had 49 cents in it, and Hennessey goes to the New York State prison for two years.

Josephine Mansfield has at last recovered a judgment against the estate of Jim Fisk for $25,000. An effort is making to secure a new trial.

SALEM ITEMS

SALEM, March 20, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The State Treasurer, A. H. Brown, gave a dinner to the State Printer and employes which was a very pleasant affair at his residence. After the table was cleared toasts were in order, and several were drank and replied to with a flow of good feeling and wit. A splendid opal ring was presented to Mr. W. F. Cornell by the typos, and the presentation speech made by Mr. Lathrop Coldwell in his usual happy vein of humor. The State work is now rapidly drawing to a close, and in a few days Salem will not know the faces that has enlivened this little burg for the last few months.

The masquerade party gave by Miss Elva Breyman last evening was a grand success. All of the characters were well sustained, and the party was very enjoyable.

The next affair will be a grand masquerade ball, to be given by Prof. F. M. Day, on the 1st of April, and as a great many have never attended a party of this kind, all are proportionately excited.

EVERYBODY IS ANXIOUS TO HAVE A RAILroad connection with the East, and the present outlook is very encouraging. It will bring new people and new enterprises will be inaugurated, thus improving affairs generally in Oregon. CITY.

OLYMPIA CHORAL SOCIETY.—The followi[ng] paragraph published in the Northwestern Fa[rmer], in its issue of March 20th, is somewh[at] unique, and will doubtless be perused wi[th] interest, not unmingled with curiosity by [our] Portland readers:

The Olympia Choral Society are in receipt [of] an invitation to go over to Portland and gi[ve] an "Old Folk's Concert" for the benefit of t[he] Home of that city. The society is composed [of] some of our very best citizens who would und[er] no circumstances enter into such an arrang[ement as a] speculation, but as the Home is [a] deserving charity, open to the widow an[d] orphan, it is to be hoped the invitation will b[e] accepted. We can assure the citizens of Port[land] that the concert will be entertaining an[d] mirth-provoking if it be decided on. Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, Secretary of the Home, sends th[e] following unique invitation, which will b[e] considered at a special meeting on Monda[y] evening next, and an answer given:

PORTLAND, March 14, 1875.

To ye men and women singers of ye grat[e] Concerte in ye Hall called "Columbia," whic[h] took place on the evening of Tuesday, y[e] twenty-fourth day of ye eleventh month of y[e] yeare of our Lord eighteen hundred an[d] seventy-four, in ye town of Olympia, W. T. greeting:

Ye ladies of ye "Relief Societye of Portland, Ogn., "being desirous of lysteninge to ye voice[s] of ye grate singers of your singinge meetinge, d[o] petition you to holde a meeting in ye Hal[l] called Masonic, in this ye citie of Portland fo[r] the benefit of ye goode cause of ye "Ladie[s'] R. S." ye singers to set the time is may seem expedient. Your well meanninge friend,

ANCHOR BUILDINGS, Committee.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—We learn by lette[r] from Aurora that a sad accident occurred i[n] that vicinity on Friday. Several boys by th[e] name of Kearns, living on Molalla prairie, i[n] Clackamas county, were out grouse hunting [when] they espied one sitting in the very top of a tal[l] fir tree, and as their shotgun was not of suffi[cient] range to reach his grouseship, they con[cluded] to resort to some means by which the[y] could come within easy range of his lofty roost. Accordingly one of the boys, named James, aged about 21 years of age, climbed u[p] a tree to a considerable height, at the same time one of the other boys ascended a smaller tree near by. The third boy, stationed on terra firma, handed the gun to the boy on th[e] smaller tree, who caught hold of the gun with his right hand over the muzzle. By some ac[cident] the hammer caught and discharged th[e] gun, the whole charge, wad and all, passing through the hand, in front of the little bones between the fore and middle fingers, separa[t]ing the tendon of the forefinger, and other[wise] lacerating the hand. Dr. Giesy, of Au[rora], who was called immediately, dressed th[e] wound of the unfortunate boy, who, at last accounts, was doing as well as could be ex[pected] under the circumstances.

COOK ALIAS SMITH.—In Thursday's issue w[e] published an item concerning the fugitive Cook, alias Smith, who broke jail at Lafayette on the 14th inst., and of his being closely tracked by the Deputy Sheriff of Yamhill. The Vancouver Register of the 20th inst. says: "Sheriff A. L. Coffey, when returning from Chelatchie, Wednesday afternoon, encountered a man in the road whom he thought he had seen before, but from his action the stranger was evidently averse to renewing the acquaintance. A close scrutiny revealed the wayfarer to be no less a personage than George Smith, who, it will be remembered, served six months in the county jail for burglarizing the sutler store, while in Uncle Sam's service, at this post, about a year ago. When the Sheriff reached town he found an officer here looking for a gentleman named 'Cook,' who had escaped from the Yamhill county jail a week or so ago, and after comparing notes, both officers became convinced that Smith and Cook were one and the same, and that when Sheriff Coffey met him he was on his clear, winding way to the sea. A telegram to Deputy Sheriff Isaac of Kalama, will probably have the effect of abbreviating Mr. Cook's journeyings."

DRIED FRUIT.—Mr. O. P. Beardsley, agent of the Alden Fruit Preserving Company of New York, has placed on our table a small package of fruit dried by what is known as the "Alden Process." In point of flavor the sample furnished us, is decidedly superior to any which we have yet tasted. Fruit dried by the Alden Process is said to be equal in all respects to fresh fruit for pies, puddings and other confections for the table, and is superior to fresh fruit in refinement, ripeness, richness, digestibility and economy. Every consumer will prove these statements true by finding that one-half the sugar necessary for the fresh or crude fruit, will be ample for these "raisined" products of the Alden process. The natural fresh color, texture and flavor of the fruit remains in it, and reappears by proper treatment in water, after the lapse of years in any climate. The entire process being covered, and requiring but five hours' time, the offensive and unwholesome deposits of insects and dust are excluded.

THE NEW COMPANY.—By the steamer Idaho the new dramatic company for Ankeny's new Market Theater arrived. The company consist of the following persons:—James A. Herne, leading man; Miss Blanche Galton, leading lady, Thomas Whiffen, Geo. Osborn and wife, Frank Cleaves, J. H. Leroy, Mrs. Deaves, Miss Ada Deaves and Miss Rillie Deaves. Wednesday evening has been selected as the opening night, and "Rip Van Winkle" or "The Sleep of Twenty Years," will be the piece in which the new company will make their debut. Mr. Herne's impersonation of the character of "Rip," is pronounced by competent critics to be equal in many respects to that of the celebrated Joe Jefferson. Efficiently supported by a full dramatic company we have no doubt but the promised theatrical season will be quite successful.

A NEW TUG.—We are informed that it is the intention of the Cementville Milling Company to build the coming season, a large, powerful steam tug suitable for bar or river towage. As yet the dimensions of the craft have not been determined upon. The machinery which has been employed in propelling the tug Mercure, will be thoroughly overhauled and used on the new tug. A new boiler will probably be built expressly for the new craft. Work will be commenced in the course of a month on the hull. The tug is intended expressly for towing vessels to and from Cementville which load with lumber at that point. In addition, we are informed that the milling company intend to construct ways at Cementville large enough to build sailing vessels upon.

PASSENGERS COMING.—The steamship Ori[flamme], which sailed for this port on Satur[day], brings the following passengers: Mrs. Norton and child, Mrs. Hepburn and child, Mrs. L. H. Lewis, Mrs. G. H. Clark, Mrs. Batchelder and son, D. Deselle, W. Elliot, Welch, T. Phillips, W. Lindsey, W. A. Smith, E. E. Jerome, C. B. Farleman, A. Phinney, B. H. Upham, P. Hiatt, L. A. Ackerman, C. L. Dell, C. Hirstel, P. F. Dickinson, Joseph Meyer, Jos. Zeling, wife and 2 daughters, J. P. Megaw, W. Mart, E. A. Miller, John Hughes and family, J. M. Fisk, J. H. Bolling[er], J. Strauss, C. E. Patterson, G. Harrison, W. Jackson, J. Rienan, T. Harper, S. Farjon, E. Gunn, E. N. Thomas, E. Dittman and wife.

SHOCKINGLY BURNED.—A little daughter o[f] Mr. Enoch Turner, aged about five years, me[t] with a shocking accident last evening at fiv[e] o'clock. The little girl was playing about th[e] room and, losing her balance, fell against [a] stove which was red hot at the time. Sh[e] struck on the right side of her face, and wa[s] burned in a most shocking manner. On[e] hand was also badly burned in the child'[s] frantic efforts to save her face. The acciden[t] transpired within three seconds, and all effor[ts] made to save the child was of no avail. Med[ic]al assistance was invoked immediately, an[d] everything done which could alleviate the suf[fering] of the child. It is feared that the acc[i]dent will disfigure the girl for life.

PRISONERS EXPECTED.—Several prisoners ar[e] expected to arrive on the steamer Californ[ia] from Sitka. These are prisoners brought he[re] on a bench warrant issued from the Unite[d] States District Court. Subpœnas were issue[d] some time ago by the United States gran[d] jury to those persons, requiring their presenc[e] here as witnesses in important cases. The[se] subpœnas were disregarded, and a bench wa[r]rant forthwith issued, compelling their atten[d]ance on the court.

CITY.

OLYMPIA CHORAL SOCIETY.—The following paragraph published in the Northwestern Farmer, in its issue of March 20th, is somewhat unique, and will doubtless be perused with interest, not unmingled with curiosity by our Portland readers:

The Olympia Choral Society are in receipt of an invitation to go over to Portland and give an "Old Folk's Concert" for the benefit of the Home of that city. The society is composed of some of our very best citizens who would under no circumstances enter into such an arrangement as a speculation, but as the Home is a deserving charity, open to the widow and orphan, it is to be hoped the invitation will be accepted. We can assure the citizens of Portland that the concert will be entertaining and mirth-provoking if it be decided on. Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, Secretary of the Home, sends the following unique invitation, which will be considered at a special meeting on Monday evening next, and an answer given:

PORTLAND, March 14, 1875.

To ye men and women singers of ye grate Concerte in ye Hall called "Columbia," which took place on the evening of Tuesday, ye twenty-fourth day of ye eleventh month of ye yeare of our Lord eighteen hundred and seventy-four, in ye towne of Olympia, W. T., greeting:

Ye ladies of ye "Relief Societye of Portland, Ogn.," being desirous of lysteninge to ye voices of ye grate singers of your singinge meetinge do petition you to holde a meeting in ye Hall called Masonic, in this ye citie of Portland for the benefit of ye goode cause of ye "Ladies R. S." ye singers to set the time as may seem expedient. Your well meaninge friend,

ANCHOR BILLINGS, Committee.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—We learn by letter from Aurora that a sad accident occurred in that vicinity on Friday. Several boys by the name of Kearns, living on Molalla prairie, in Clackamas county, were out grouse hunting; they espied one sitting in the very top of a tall fir tree, and as their shotgun was not of sufficient range to reach his grouseship, they concluded to resort to some means by which they could come within easy range of his lofty roost. Accordingly one of the boys, named James, aged about 21 years of age, climbed up a tree to a considerable height, at the same time one of the other boys ascended a smaller tree near by. The third boy, stationed on terra firma, handed the gun to the boy on the smaller tree, who caught hold of the gun with his right hand over the muzzle. By some accident the hammer caught and discharged the gun, the whole charge, wad and all, passing through the hand, in front of the little bones between the fore and middle fingers, separating the tendon of the forefinger, and otherwise lacerating the hand. Dr. Giesy, of Aurora, who was called immediately, dressed the wound of the unfortunate boy, who, at last accounts, was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

COOK ALIAS SMITH.—In Thursday's issue we published an item concerning the fugitive Cook, alias Smith, who broke jail at Lafayette on the 14th inst., and of his being closely tracked by the Deputy Sheriff of Yamhill. Mr. Herne's impersonation of the character of "Rip," is pronounced by competent critics to be equal in many respects to that of the celebrated Joe Jefferson. PASSENGERS COMING.—The steamship Oriflamme, which sailed for this port on Saturday, brings the following passengers: Mrs. Norton and child, Mrs. Hepburn and child, Mrs. L. H. Lewis, Mrs. G. H. Clark, Mrs. Batchelder and son, R. Desello, W. Elliot, Welch, T. Phillips, W. Lindsey, W. A. Smith, E. E. Jerome, C. B. Farleman, A. Phinney, B. H. Upham, P. Hiatt, L. A. Ackerman, C. L. Dell, O. Harrison, W. Jackson, J. Rienan, T. Harper, S. Farjon, E. Gunn, E. N. Thomas, E. Dittman and wife.

SHOCKINGLY BURNED.—A little daughter of Mr. Enoch Turner, aged about five years, met with a shocking accident last evening at five o'clock. The little girl was playing about the room and, losing her balance, fell against a stove which was red hot at the time. She struck on the right side of her face, and was burned in a most shocking manner. One hand was also badly burned in the child's frantic efforts to save her face. The accident transpired within three seconds, and all effort made to save the child was of no avail. Medical assistance was invoked immediately, and everything done which could alleviate the suffering of the child. It is feared that the accident will disfigure the girl for life.

PRISONERS EXPECTED.—Several prisoners are expected to arrive on the steamer California from Sitka. These are prisoners brought here on a bench warrant issued from the United States District Court. Subpoenas were issued some time ago by the United States grand jury to those persons, requiring their presence here as witnesses in important cases. These subpoenas were disregarded, and a bench warrant forthwith issued, compelling their attendance on the court.

SEVERELY HURT.—Last evening about six o'clock a lad named Ollie Mills was severely hurt by receiving a heavy blow on one side of the head with a stick in the hands of another boy. It seems that a crowd of boys, numbering about a dozen, were engaged in a free fight. Mills was in the crowd, and during the melee a boy named Sykes dealt him a blow with a stout stick just below the temple, knocking him senseless and causing the blood to flow in copious quantities from the lad's nose and mouth. He remained unconscious for some time, and the boy's mother becoming alarmed sent for a physician. At present the result of the injury cannot be determined.

ARRIVED.—After a protracted passage—five days—from San Francisco, the steamer Idaho arrived at this port about 5:30 o'clock on Saturday evening, with a large freight list, and a number of passengers. Yesterday forenoon the steamer Gussie Telfair reached port from Sitka and way ports with a full freight and a few passengers. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning the bark Aurora reached this port in tow of the Annie Stewart. She brings 800 tons of railroad iron from Middlesborough for the Wallula and Walla Walla railroad, and will carry hence a cargo of grain. At present the Aurora lies at anchor in the stream.

NO SEATS TO BE SOLD.—In view of the fact that there will be a grand rush at the new theater on the opening night, the suggestion was made that it would be an excellent idea for the proprietor, Capt. Ankeny, to dispose of a number of the most desirable seats at auction. Acting on the suggestion made by various parties, we made mention of the plan in our last issue. Capt. Ankeny called on us last evening, and desired us to make the announcement that no seats in the theater would be disposed of at auction. Due notice will be given of the sale of reserved seats.

SICK—CONVALESCENT.—Prof. T. H. Parrott, we regret to state, is confined to his home in East Portland from severe illness. Fred. Cole, who was accidentally shot one week ago yesterday, has much improved, and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery. Joseph Buchtel is rapidly convalescing, and will soon be able to appear on the streets. We much regret to state that Mr. W. P. Burke is lying quite low, and his recovery almost despaired of. Mr. Samuel M. Smith, the well known druggist, is still confined to his room with illness.

THE LECTURE.—The proceeds of the lecture by the Rev. Mr. Bentley on Wednesday evening are to be applied to the purchase of an organ for the North Portland M. E. Mission Sunday School.

COURSE OF LECTURES.—We understand that the Literary Society, lately organized at the Taylor street M. E. church, contemplate a course of popular lectures, to be commenced in a few weeks.

Geo. Herrall is closing out his stock of groceries, being desirous of quitting that business to engage in another. At cost, is the word. Here is a chance.

The grand rush for first-class pictures at Buchtel & Stolte's gallery is not to be wondered at, as Mr. Thwaites, the experienced operator, and Mr. Hasselman, the accomplished artist, are turning out the finest work ever before done in this State, and equal to the best in the United States.

We called on Saturday to see the "Little Monitor" sewing machine, and found it to be quite different to anything of the kind that has been presented here for public favor. If it does all that is claimed for it there is a fortune to be made from the sale of the machine. Mrs. Paxton, the agent, can tell you all about it. Call and see the "Little Monitor."

RAILROAD CONNECTION.

BOARD OF TRADE, PORTLAND, March 20, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In to-day's OREGONIAN you remark that Messrs. W. S. Ladd, B. Goldsmith and A. C. Gibbs, all "more or less prominently associated with the Winnemucca railroad project," were in consultation with the Central Pacific Railroad directors at San Francisco. This remark might convey the erroneous impression that these gentlemen were personally interested in that railroad and were, in consequence, working for their own interests, hence I know you will kindly permit me to put you right. On the contrary Messrs. W. S. Ladd and B. Goldsmith simply waited upon the Central Pacific Railroad directors as two of the permanent railroad committee appointed by the President of this Board under the following resolution passed at the last monthly meeting:

Resolved, That such railroad committee and secretary be appointed, five in number; that they be and are hereby authorized to correspond and have interviews with the Central Pacific and Union Pacific Railroad directors, and ascertain on what terms it would be built and through running connections to Omaha would be obtained for an Oregon road to connect with one or other of such railroad companies' lines, &c.

Mr. Gibbs acted as honorary attorney to the railroad committee.

I beg your readers to understand that neither the Board of Trade nor its railroad committee (of which last W. S. Ladd and B. Goldsmith are active members) are committed to any one railroad project, but favor one and all of such enterprises that offer to secure Oregon railroad communication with the East.

Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM REID,
Secretary of the Board.

Theater opens on Wednesday and Faber & Barnes are now open to orders—Central Market.

For a big cup of coffee, and the best, go to Fabre & Barnes, Central Market.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We are now prepared to reproduce from old and faded Pictures, the finest work in Crayon, India Ink, or Water Colors. Call and examine specimens. There is no longer any necessity to send such work out of the State when it can be done in a superior style under your own observation, at

BUCHTEL & STOLTE'S
91 and 93 First Street.

The Oriflamme brought a large invoice of Goods for Beck & Waldman, and additional lots will arrive on the steamer to arrive next week. This enterprising firm keep their stock well assorted, and for that reason they have a continuous run of customers who know this and of course are always able to find something new in the clothing line. Besides their varied stock of men's clothing and furnishing goods the firm keep a well selected stock of youth's suits which every fond parent should call and see before making purchases. You will find them at the old corner always ready to serve the public.

Do not neglect a cold. Thousands have been carried to early and unnecessary graves by not resorting to some sure and reliable means of cure. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is offered as a cure of nearly half a century's standing, and is in all respects the best for coughs, colds, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc.

Cæsar covered his head and gray hair with a laurel crown. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR covers gray heads with the still more welcome locks of youth.

CROUP DISARMED OF ITS TERRORS.

The croupy cough—so alarming to the ear and so dangerous to life—to which children are subject, may be immediately relieved by administering a dose of HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. When given to a child who seems to be choking under the effects of a spasmodic and husky cough, the effect is electrical, as many a mother will testify. In fact there is no affection of the throat or the lungs, short of the actual disorganization of the tissues and membranes which it will not cure.

PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS—Cure in one minute.

THE ALSEA.

Now that so much has been said about the removal of the Indians from the Alsea Reservation, a great many people are turning their thoughts to that section with a view of finding homes. Comparatively little is known throughout the country in regard to the resources and capabilities of the region which this removal of the Indians (when it is effected) will open up to settlement, and, perhaps a slight description of the country and its advantages as a place of settlement might not be amiss. Along the main

ALSEA RIVER,

Below what is known as Alsea valley, or Upper Alsea, runs a country road which, though not yet perfectly completed, still furnishes a passway for the settlers from one portion of the valley to the other, and on the line of this road is a great deal of land as rich and productive as any in Oregon. For a distance of 16 miles the narrow valley is much of it susceptible of cultivation and there is room for near 100 ranches, each having from 40 to 100 acres of good, rich farming land, with an inexhaustible range for stock in the hills adjoining. Farther on down the Alsea Bay is the mouth of

BEAVER CREEK,

In the valley of which may be found a large area of arable land, and an inexhaustible supply of timber which will soon be more valuable than even good farming land. At the head of tide water on this creek is a rapids or fall, which furnishes a fine chance for water power to run mills or machinery of any kind, while the abundant forests contiguous, and easy of access, furnish material sufficient to render the manufacture and shipment of lumber a profitable enterprise. Below this, and in the neighborhood of the present settlements on the Lower Alsea, or Alsea Bay, is

DRIFT CREEK,

Which is quite a good sized stream, navigable for small vessels for several miles above its mouth. This stream, and the lands adjoining it, have the same general characteristics mentioned in regard to the main Alsea river. The arable land needs clearing of brush, and most of it has some timber on it, which will need removing before the land is ready for the plow. After this land is cleared there is no richer or better land in the world, it producing all kinds of grain and vegetables in abundance, the potatoes and onions exceeding in size and yield those grown on the celebrated beaver dam lands of Washington county. Some of the finest

WATER POWERS

In Oregon may be found on the Alsea and its tributaries. In addition to the ones mentioned on Beaver creek and Drift creek, the rapids at the head of tide water on the Alsea will furnish a water power easy of access, and easily improved, sufficient to run any amount of machinery. All along the Alsea are boundless forests of magnificent timber, consisting of ash, oak, maple, fir, cedar, larch, spruce, etc., affording a great variety of useful and ornamental woods, and in quantities sufficient for domestic use and for exportation for generations.

THE ALSEA VALLEY,

Or upper Alsea, is now tolerably well settled with a hardy, industrious and enterprising people; and supports good public schools and churches, has a saw and grist mill and other necessities of civilized life. The land is very productive, yielding almost fabulous amounts of wheat, oats and flax seed per acre, thirty to thirty-five bushels of flax seed to the acre being not uncommon, while vegetables of all kinds are grown with but little care and trouble, and in enormous quantities.

As a place for the new comer to find a home, we know of no locality offering greater inducements than does the Alsea valley from its source to the sea, and we would advise those to whom cheap land is an object, to take a trip to that section of country, assuring them that, although they may not find a home to suit them, they will be well repaid for their trouble, as they find the scenery charming and the people hospitable and kind.—Benton Democrat.

YUNG WING MARRIES A CONNECTICUT LADY.—Mr. Yung Wing, of Canton, China, chief of the Chinese Educational Commission now at Hartford, was married on February 24th to Miss Mary L. Kellogg, at the residence of her father, B. S. Kellogg, in Avon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. T. H. Twitchell, of the Asylum Hill Congregational Church in Hartford, a very particular friend of the bridegroom. The bride wore a dress of white crape, imported expressly for this occasion from China, and elaborately trimmed with floss silk embroidery. Her brother and sister attended as groomsman and bridesmaid. After the ceremony a collation was served, in which Chinese delicacies were mingled with more substantial dishes of American style. Messrs. Yoh Shu Tung, manager, and Yung Yun Foo, teacher of the Commission at Hartford, were present in national costume, but the groom, who long since adopted our style, appeared in full evening dress. The bridal presents were numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Wing left on the evening train for New York on a short wedding tour.

LEGISLATION FOR CHARLEY ROSS.—Novel interest has been given to the Charley Ross mystery by the passage of an extraordinary act by the Assembly of Pennsylvania, which, on receiving the signature of the Governor, will become a law of the State. It provides that the severe penalty of fifteen years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine shall be imposed on each and every person who shall continue to conceal the abducted Ross or any other kidnapped child. A special clause is added which will operate to free the guilty parties from the consequences of their felony if they make restitution or give information of the child within thirty days from the date of the passage of the act. The act is at once a menace and an invitation. It was so skillfully drawn that it can not be pleaded that it is an ex post facto law, for the concealment of the child is made the actual offense, instead of the kidnapping, and like a continuing trespass, every moment that the concealment continues a new crime is committed. The measure was passed almost unanimously.

The Multiplication of Diseases.

Diseases multiply. One begets another. A trifling indisposition may, therefore, originate a complication of dangerous maladies. Indigestion begets far more formidable diseases; a multitude of ailments are traceable to constipation; fever and ague unhinges the entire nervous system, and is therefore the source of the protean ailments which affect that portion of the human organism. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, however, whether resorted to at the inception of those disorders of the stomach, bowels or liver, which gave birth to the majority of diseases and disabilities, or taken when they have ripened into formidable maturity, are alike powerful to cure. The process of recovery is, of course, longer when the malady has gained headway, but it is none the less certain. Dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, kidney complaints and intermittent fever, invariably yield to the operation of the great alterative and invigorant.

THE KING OF THE CANNIBAL ISLANDS.

[Tune, "Malbrouk."]

BY J. W. DE FOREST.

The King of the Cannibal Islands
Decided to conquer some dry lands.
So he marched over valleys and highlands
With twenty fout cannibal braves;
With two dozen man eating knaves
All hungry as so many graves,
He skirmished through earthlands and skylands,
Defiant of weather and waves.

He came to Atlantis the Holy,
Whose people were lamb-like and lowly,
Though growing a touch roly-poly
And languid in fasting and prayers;
They fasted while sleep ng like bears,
And prayed in their Vanity Fairs.
And walked in the narrow way slowly,
Much cumbered with Belzebub's wares.

Then followed a wonderful battle;
Good lack! how the weapons did rattle!
The women and children, the cattle
Took part in the desperate strife;
They carried the war to the knife;
With slaughter Atlantis was rife;
About it the Muses will prattle
While Providence granteth them life.

The Cannibals turned out the winners,
They made twenty-five hearty dinners,
They gobbled the saints and the sinners
And put all Atlantis to sack;
They swallowed white, yellow and black,
The hungriest, greediest pack
Of robbers and pickers and skinners
That ever sent region to wrack.

Henceforth they were chiefs of the nation,
And lived by relief legislation;
They served up a bill of collation
And fattened a law like a beast;
Their appetites daily increased;
A lunch was a patent, at least;
While railroads and steam navigation
Scarce furnished the joints for a feast.

—Scribner for March.

DEATH OF THE IRISH GIANT.

James Murphy, Jr., known as the Irish Giant, died in Baltimore, March 5th, of consumption. Mr. Murphy was born in Waterford, Ireland, was thirty-three years of age, and unmarried. He measured nearly eight feet in height. The Baltimore Sun says of him:

"Some months ago, when he was in comparatively good health, he weighed 351 pounds. He had weighed more when his health was better. He had been in this country twenty-four years, having been brought here by his father and mother, who still live at the house on Chester street. The giant traveled three years ago with Barnum as one of the great living curiosities of the world. In his professional career he visited every part of this country, from Maine to California and the extreme South. After terminating his engagement with Barnum the giant traveled with a circus, where he contracted the bronchial disease which finally ended his life. When in good health he had a fresh, pleasant face, and, like all large men, and particularly all giants, except those of the story books and nursery tales, was as amiable as he was great in stature. He had a very youthful expression of countenance, coal-black hair, and his hands were so large that one of them could cover the head of a large man, just as an ordinary hand would cover an orange. His feet were not so large proportionately as the hands, but beside an ordinary shoe, one of his shoes would seem to be a sufficient habitation for the old woman of the story book, who had so many children she did not know what to do. When the undertaker came to measure the dead giant for his coffin, it was found that the deceased was full eight feet long. Surely the measure of a man is correctly known when he is dead. The coffin will be nearly eight and a half feet long. The body was visited by hundreds of people, the giant being well known on Fell's Point, where he was justly esteemed for his amiability, especially by the children, who, after the first shrinkage, generally liked to be taken in his arms and elevated as far above the heads of their parents as he could conveniently hold them. Some of the little boys in the neighborhood knew him only by the name of 'The Giant.' The body lay in a small room about twelve feet square, against the south wall, feet towards the west, stretching almost across the apartment from side to side. Candles were burning at the head and foot and sides of the corpse, which was covered with a black pall, with a large white cross on the breast, and crosses in the corners of the cloth. The father of the giant is a large man. When at his best he stood over six feet in his stockings, though he is now a little bent. The mother is not above the medium size for the sex. Both the old people are in good health, and seem vigorous for their years. Including the giant they have had born to them five sons and three daughters. One son only is alive. Some of the children were undersized. Only one, a son, attained the size of his father, except the giant, who exceeded the growth of the parent by nearly two feet."

ENGLISH TAUGHT IN ONE LESSON.

At many of the New York restaurants a very "heavy" "French style" is put on; the waiters are mostly Frenchmen, and the bill of fare is often printed in French. A correspondent writes that venturing out early one morning in New York, he dropped in to the first restaurant he came to, which happened to be one of the kind spoken of above.

Carelessly giving an order, the waiter, bringing his shoulders up under his ears, responded:

"Je n' parle pas Anglais, M'sieur," and the hungry man had to point out his wants on the bill of fare, with which, after considerable delay, he was served.

Just there entered another customer, a tall, powerful fellow, evidently fresh from the Western prairies, who settling himself into a chair, ordered "Beef-steak, fried potatoes, hot bread 'n cup o' coffee."

To him the grinning Frenchman repeated the same formula:

"Je n' parle pas Anglais, M'sieur."

The Western man looked at him for a moment, and then, rising from his seat like the opening of a big jack-knife with a stiff spring, he slowly ejaculated, as he clenched a wicked-looking fist:

"Beef-steak—fried potatoes—hot bread—cup of coffee—d—d quick."

The effect on the waiter was magical. There never was a man served more promptly with just what he ordered for breakfast than the hungry Westerner.

He evidently knew the way of putting his English so that there was no mistaking it.

Relics of Washington.—The Baltimore Sun says that a sword worn by and belonging to Colonel Lewis, of Virginia, who represented Washington at the tea party at the Academy of Music, in that city, is one of the five presented by General Washington to his five nephews. They were given with the injunction that they should never be unsheathed in time of peace, and never unless in self-defense, or in their country's cause. This has been strictly adhered to, and the sword of Colonel Lewis cannot now be drawn, so tightly has the scabbard shrunk to it. Mr. Pegram also had on a sword that formerly belonged to Washington, and which has been in the family over fifty years.

An Olympia man will ship 400,000 hoop poles to San Francisco this year.

The latest telegraphic quotations from the Liverpool wheat market are of the 18th, and give the prevailing price at 8s 11d @ 9s 3d for average California, and 9s 5d @ 9s 10d for club per cental. Latest London advices, however, note an advance of 1s@2s per quarter in most European markets, induced by the backwardness of the season.

There may be observed a somewhat increased demand for monetary favors in our local market, generally ascribed to the excitement noticeable in the wheat market, though there is a slightly growing inquiry from other parties. As yet the loanable funds in the market are ample, but heavy remittances to San Francisco and the East have made some impression upon the surplus capital here, which, if continued will bring about what is already not entirely unlooked for, a closer condition in finances than has been experienced since last spring. The outflow, however, ought not to continue so much against, for a great while, as present exports are encouraging, in volume and large shipments of breadstuffs made last fall are now due in Europe, or nearly so, and many cargoes as yet unsold. Were the prospects of selling good, it would increase the probabilities of more active business here, but we are sorry to learn that even cargoes nearly due find a dull sale, and some of that class which have been in the English market meet with no offers at all.

In trade matters there is some animation, but no changes worthy of note. The heavy importations of late, per steamer and sailing vessels, give the market an appearance of activity which is less healthy than the casual observer might think, but that a steady and brisk demand for these imported goods will arise in due time, is confidently expected.

Produce is coming to hand in increased volume owing to the better stage of water in the upper Willamette which will be still further improved by the heavy rains now falling.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The little excitement noticed during the past three days is still kept up, and though it has resulted in more talk among dealers than anything else, a few transactions are reported as occurring to-day at $1 57½@1 40 per cental, the latter figure being the highest quotation obtainable.

OATS—We have no means of knowing the surplus of this cereal in our State, but are of the opinion that it would be found quite large were prices put up to a figure which would induce holders to "show down." At present there is a fair demand in this market at 45@48c per bushel, with but few offering. They are reported to be selling for more in Albany than buyers are paying here, and appearances indicate that some body is getting up a "corner."

FLOUR—The market has undergone no important change since our last weekly review, the supply being only moderate and holders firm in demanding full quotations of $4 25@4 50 ₩ barrel for jobbing lots of standard extras; $4 for good outside and country brands, and $3 50@3 75 for superfine.

BARLEY—The demand is fair for local consumption, but receipts very light. Quotable nominally as last week at $1 25 ₩ hundred, first for good feed and $1 35@1 40 for choice brewing.

MILL FEED—There is an apparent improvement in the demand and trade is active at $25@27 50 per ton for middlings; bran, $12@13; chops, $25@27 50; shorts, $20; oil cake, $30.

HAY—There has been a slight decline and jobbers are paying $10@11 for good to choice timothy, selling at $12@13 per ton.

POTATOES—There is a fair demand for good lots for shipment at 72½@75c per bushel, the range of quotations being 70@75c.

ONIONS—A more active movement has taken place during the week than was anticipated. Prices for jobbing are $1 25@1 50 ₩ 100 lbs for best varieties.

APPLES RIPE—Notwithstanding the fear that the frost had spoiled most of the surplus, receipts have been free, and since the ice gave way our shipments have been fully 4,000 boxes. Choice lots assorted and neatly packed command $1 per box; loose from wagons quotable at 60@75c.

APPLES DRIED—There is the usual demand at low rates; 4½@5c ₩ lb in sacks, 5@5½ in kegs.

BACON—The supply continues rather in excess of the current demand and sales are dull. Sides are quotable at 11@11½c ₩ lb; hams, 13@14c; shoulders, 8@9c.

LARD—There is more distinction between kegs and tins; quotable in the former at 13c ₩ lb, and in the latter at 14c.

BUTTER—Prices are nearly as last given, with a downward tendency, and quotations must be according to quality. Choice dairy is in brisk demand. Common is more plentiful.

EGGS—The market is in more liberal supply today and quotations are down to 15 cents per dozen.

CHICKENS—Choice lots of full grown are worth $4 50 ₩ dozen; common and mixed, $3 50@4.

DRESSED HOGS—The packing season having closed, the only demand is for the home trade and is not brisk at 6@6½c ₩ lb.

BEEF CATTLE—There have been but few arrivals of choice lots during the past week, and for such, prices have advanced to 6 cts ₩ lb net on foot; ordinary quotable at 5@5½c.

MUTTON SHEEP—There are very few lots offering, and choice are worth $3 25@3 75 ₩ head, and some at the extreme of $4.

Premium Carriage Factory

E. SMITH,

CARRIAGE MAKER,

Cor. Jefferson and Front Streets,

PORTLAND, OREGON,

Is now making First-Class EXPRESS WAGONS, BUGGIES and CARRIAGES of all kinds.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

At the Oregon State Fair, recently held at Salem, Mr. E. Smith was awarded the First Premiums for an Open and also on a Top Buggy. The latter was built from a design published in the June number of The Carriage Monthly, styled "Monitor Piano-Box Buggy," and elicited much admiration.—The Publication Carriage Monthly.

Mr. E. Smith, of Portland, has on exhibition at the State Fair two Buggies, both Open and Top, and certainly exhibit as good workmanship as can be found on the Coast, while several very important improvements have been added, especially in ironing the bolts through the axles, by putting the bolts through the same. The commendable enterprise that Mr. Smith has displayed, we understand is being amply rewarded in our city. He will be awarded the first Premium.—Oregonian.

Mr. E. Smith, Carriage Maker, of Portland, exhibited one Open and one Covered Buggy upon the Fair Grounds, which deserve special mention. These Carriages are especially light and durable, and those in need of such a purchase—and who isn't—should call upon him before purchasing elsewhere. Of course Mr. Smith bore off the blue ribbons.—New Northwest.

Mr. E. Smith, Carriage Maker, corner of Front and Jefferson streets, took two Premiums at the State Fair for First-Class Buggies. This speaks well for his work, and is a credit to Portland.—Pacific Christian Advocate.

Home Manufacture.—Mr. E. Smith, Carriage Maker, of this city, has some splendid Vehicles on exhibition at the Fair.—Temperance Star.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Gout, Stomach and Breath, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

Has been widely used during the last twenty-five years, in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes, or chills, once broken by it, do not return, until the disease is contracted again. This has made it an accepted remedy, and trusted specific, for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South.

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system, and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease, so that no Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure. Indeed, where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison, it removes the cause of them and they disappear. Not only is it an effectual cure, but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria, it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm, has no speedier remedy.

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy.

THE TILTON-BEECHER TRIAL.

A Jam at the Court-Room.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Bessie Turner's testimony on Friday last, in the Beecher trial, stirred up the idle and curious, together with a desire that this morning the greatest crowd yet besieged the doors of the Brooklyn city court-room, clamorous for admittance. There was the usual complement of women. The place in the court-room assigned for the audience was packed, and the part reserved since the sickness of a juror for counsel and reporters was trenched on.

Bessie Turner's.

Direct examination was resumed by ex-Judge Porter. Witness first corrected her testimony of Friday by stating Tilton's first visit to her room was in 1868, and when he carried her to her room was in 1869. Witness then continued: She first visited Beecher Dec. 14, 1870, when she told him of Tilton's visit to her room. Before going to Steubenville she did not tell any one of the charges made by Tilton against Beecher. Witness was here shown and identified several letters from Tilton to her, signed, "Yours, as ever, Theodore Tilton." One written to her in Ohio says: "The house looks lonely since your absence."

Witness then continued: Mr. and Mrs. Tilton sent me to boarding school. Tilton told me of his wife's and his intention to send me to boarding school on Sunday afternoon in his study. Mrs. Tilton also spoke to me about going away, but nothing was ever said about my going away in connection with the stories against Beecher. On Tilton's first visit to my room he did not lie down as I am stated to have said, but was inclining over the bed when he kissed me goodnight.

Witness is handed a letter dated January 10th: This letter is in my handwriting and was directed to me by Tilton. I think Mrs. Tilton was then at home. He was talking about Mrs. Morse, and I told him she had endeavored to hire me to go round to Beecher and tell him of this story, which I refused to do. Tilton then asked me to copy this off and put my name to it, which I did.

Porter then read the letter. It was written to Mrs. Tilton, and dated January 10, 1871, in which she informed her that Mrs. Morse had endeavored to procure her to circulate injurious stories about her husband. Another letter, dated January 15th, was read, stating that the story of Tilton's carrying her from her bed was a wicked lie.

Witness then continued: I wrote the second note at the earnest solicitation of Mrs. Tilton. I did tell some few persons Tilton had attempted to violate my person. Tilton was aware I told this matter. I didn't tell this story to these persons as fully as I have told it here.

Direct examination here closed, and she was surrendered to counsel for the prosecution. The hum and buzz that passed through the court-room as Judge Porter took his seat were promptly hushed as Judge Fullerton rose to begin the Cross-examination—As the first sound of the first question was heard, everybody bent forward, every eye was directed on the witness, and every car stood erect so as not to lose a sound. Witness testified she first went to live with the Tiltons in the summer of 1864, and lived there off and on for ten years, leaving and returning several times. The first time she went to Springfield, Mass., where she lived with Mrs. Vanning, had no trouble there; don't know when she went, when she lived there; went either to the Elizabeth street Home, or to Tilton's. If it was to the Home, didn't remember how long she stayed, nor what year it was. Was in the Home two or three times, but didn't remember where she went after leaving it. Went to live with David Daws in Twenty second street. Went with them to Tarrytown early in the spring, and remained until fall when she went to Tilton's ... side was in the spring of 1868—the second ... the summer of 1869. Witness was here handed a letter which she first said was not in her handwriting, but afterwards admitted it was hers. Fullerton read the letter which was written from Tarrytown to Mrs. Tilton, dated May 24, 1869. It was just a friendly letter. Witness continuing: She left Daws' in 1869, and the first after her return that Tilton came to her bedside. Thinks Daws' family was at Tilton's at the time ... 1869. Witness, after staying at Tilton's two or three weeks, went to Keyport with Tilton. Nobody went with her, Annie Tilton and servant, Kate McDonald were there. Thinks this was in the early fall. When she left Tilton's to go to Keyport, Tilton, Greeley and Kate Burke were all the persons in the house. Don't remember seeing Kate McDonald there when she left. After leaving Keyport she went to Mrs. Putnam's in Marietta. Stayed nine or 10 months, and returned with Mrs. Tilton. Had no trouble at Daws'. Made no trouble in the family. Never was reproved for falsehood there. Mrs. Daws allowed her to go to see Mrs. Tilton once, but don't know whether she returned or not. Fullerton asked the witness if she had not stated in cross-examination that Mrs. Daws had gone to California after witness was there a month. Counsel for the defence objected, but the court allowed the question, and witness said she did not think she had. The record of the testimony was read, and showed that witness said she went there in the beginning of May, and they left for California at the end of the month. Witness continued: She went there when they left, but did not recollect that she was there on their return or during their absence. The family was composed of Mary, Annie, Lucy and Baby Daws. There was also a housekeeper, Mrs. Rogers. Finally, witness was asked if it was after they returned from California, and, after a long pause, she said Mrs. Daws paid me some money before I visited Mrs. Tilton. Mrs. Daws must have given me this money before she went to California, or after she returned. This is all the answer I can give at present.

"Well," said Fullerton, "we will give you until after recess to refresh your recollection about the matter."

Recess.

After recess, the crowd in the court-room was larger than before.

The Witness resumed the stand and stated she was now positive she was at Mrs. Daws' when she returned from California. Her memory was refreshed by Mrs. Tilton during recess. Thought she went to Tilton's from Mrs. Daws'. She was then questioned as to the bed-room scene, and repeated verbatim what she testified before. She was then about 17. She was not shocked, but didn't understand his talk. Was angry when he placed his hand on her neck; don't think she told Mrs. Tilton then. Witness testified before the church committee in 1874, and told the committee about Tilton's visits to her room. She was asked by the committee if the witness ever attempted to ruin her, and replied he did on two occasions. Thinks she told the committee Mrs. Tilton was in Monticello; don't remember where she was in Schoharie; now knew she was at Mon-
